

papermariolaportemillenaireiso(2) A new type of tax will be introduced in the United States from July 1st. It is already in place in some states, but rollout will be gradual. The tax system in the United States is built on the principle of specialization, when each state, district or other subject of the federation independently sets tax rates and the procedure for calculating and paying them. In this regard, taxes in the United States have their own characteristics for individual states. But there is also a general tax for all. US gambling tax
