MessagePoint Professional Edition

MessagePoint to Windows Screensaver for PowerPoint (Direct X) MessagePoint displays PowerPoint presentations as Windows screensavers MessagePoint Direct X 8.0 introduced the ability to use DirectX for presentations as Windows screensavers. There are a few things you need to know: MessagePoint has a long history of working with PowerPoint screensavers. In fact, it was the first screen saver to be able to work with PowerPoint presentations as direct output in a screensaver. Direct X 8.0, which comes with MessagePoint, is required to make your presentations run as Windows screensavers. Both Direct X 9.0 and Direct X 10.0 are required to make the PowerPoint screensavers work with Office 2010. If you use a copy of Office 2010 you do not need the latest version of DirectX. Here are some examples of how you can create the screensavers for PowerPoint presentations: Example 1: Animated transition between slides. MessagePoint shows the selected slide in a screen saver. When the user clicks the mouse on the slide MessagePoint shows the next slide. When the slide is clicked again, MessagePoint shows the previous slide. When the slide is clicked again, MessagePoint returns to the first slide of the presentation. And when the slides are repeated, the screen saver continues to loop as usual. You can change the transition from slide to slide, as well as the transition from slide to slide, by changing the parameters in the Resource file. Here is an example of how you can define the effect for this screensaver. In this example the screen saver starts with the first slide and continues to show all slides in the presentation. Example 2: If you want to create a PowerPoint screensaver that loads the entire presentation in the screen saver, you can use the "LoadAll" effect. The "LoadAll" effect includes all the slides and all the transitions to load the slide from the beginning. Example 3: If you want to create a PowerPoint screensaver that loads a specific slide in the screen saver, you can use the "LoadSlide" effect. Examples of images for use with this screensaver: Animated transition between slides: Transition from slide to slide: Transition from slide to slide:

What's New In?

MessagePoint is a powerful slide show software application that helps small businesses to promote their products, services, and ideas. MessagePoint can take your existing Power Point presentations, modify it, and use it as a Windows screensaver. You can easily add or modify your existing Power Point presentations without a knowledge of any coding languages such as VB, JScript, Perl, or anything else. MessagePoint also can open and display a local PowerPoint presentation, a remote PowerPoint presentation over HTTP, HTTPS, FTP, SOCKS4 or SOCKS5 protocols. MessagePoint can convert a local Power Point presentation to a remote one (a remote PowerPoint presentation can be displayed as a Windows screensaver). This is useful for situations where you need to display a PowerPoint presentation on a Windows PC that is offline. MessagePoint can display the contents of an entire PowerPoint presentation as a Windows screensaver. You can run this application on a PC that is in use or on a PC that is in standby mode. MessagePoint can be used to display a Word document, a PDF document, an Excel sheet, or a Web page. It can display images and graphics, video and audio clips, and embedded charts.
