I've already installed drupal and done tutorials but I'm running in problems with theme development and i need to start completely from scratch (since i've already installed drupal and installed my theme) I'm just wondering if I can add drupal to a directory with my own themes and build the site that way and if I can test my theme before going live. Thanks in advance and if you need any more information please just ask! A: No problem but there is a slight annoyance if you want to develop a new theme. From Drupal 6 the 'Backup' function in Configuration is called "Import" in Drupal 7. One of the settings is "Automatically Back Up and Restore
