Enter a world built on war and destruction, where only the most powerful survive. An ancient prophecy tells of a time of war and chaos when a Savior will rise to lead the greatest kingdom of legend - The Horde Empire. One such Savior has shown up on the Rift, intent on clearing out the dead lands of Shurima and establishing the reign of his horde. With the power of his magic, the strength of his armies, and the riches of his empire at his disposal, he will be the most powerful leader the five kingdoms have seen in generations. Or he will be destroyed. You will either rise and fight for the Horde, or fall and be destroyed by the forces of The Alliance. Have you the strength to lead your army of heroes to glory, or will you crumble in the face of a prophecy that many consider false? Game Overview: Pick a hero from the five familiar units, or create your own based on the five races of the World of Ruin. Awards & Stats: During your journey, you will be able to collect trophies and unlock achievements. Developed by From Software the creators of Dark Souls & Souls series of games. A fantasy game with a strong focus on RPG elements. Features: Free to play & available on all platforms: Online play from the very start! Many different gameplay modes: RTS: Command and conquer the world in an RTS-style game. RPG: Immerse yourself in the fantasy world of Shurima and use RPG-style skills to defeat your opponents! over to Ruined King: A League of Legends Story. The Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim was released in 2011 as the spiritual successor to the franchise's first installment, The Elder Scrolls. Unfortunately, the game had a mixture of underwhelming gameplay and an underwhelming user experience. In a lot of ways, it feels like a game designed for the ignorant masses who are only looking for a generic fantasy experience without much difficulty or control. Before this game, the franchise had been such a game of highs and lows that a lot of

An evil space-dino has eaten the sun and Earth is doomed. We are here to save it! You are the Hero! The only resistance left is the planet which is inhabited by beautiful human girls. Use space-moves to clear all obstacles and fend off the dinos on your way to save the world. How to play There are three basic movement types. Space movement. You can also control dodging by pushing left or right when the dots are on top of your ship. Diving down is a special move. Once you throw a mega-block (big green thing) you can control how much time you have to dive down. If you miss the block, there will be no time left. Rocket. When you are jumping, the dinos will follow your ship. Just aim for one of them and rocket to kill the Dino. Resistance. You can find these blue dots on the ground which is the only thing which can clear the screen. Space-smashing dot. If you touch a dot and it is big enough, it will be launched across the whole screen. Mini-Bosses. You will encounter several mini-bosses which you must kill. Once you touch a mini-boss, it will start moving around. It will end the lives of your space-moves at some point. It will also destroy your rocket. Once you destroy a mini-boss there will be a big explosion which can kill you. Time Attack Mode. You can win the game by setting a time in seconds which your ship has to run. Time will be displayed at the bottom of the screen while your ship is in the air. Press Space as soon as your time is displayed. You'll start running. When your time is up you have to stop. The game will let you know if you were too fast or not. If you wanted to set a really low time you can do that by clicking the play button and holding down the spacebar. It will save you some time! The 3D Graphics. This game was made by developing it using Unity3D, To export this game I had to use the web player which has 3D graphics. The game feels very minimal and clean. The music sounds like a retro-game, because that was one of my strongest inspirations.
