Q: Will the Sensor update service be slow? I am working on one application in android, in which i have to use minisensor for detection of accelerometer. I have initialized minisensor by using following code `sensorManager = (SensorManager) getSystemService(SENSOR_SERVICE);` and also in `onSensorChanged` function i am sending update message to the server. Will sensor update service be very slow for sending the data to server and response? A: Yes it will be slow as you are increasing the network traffic from your phone and your phone will have higher cpu utilization to handle all of these events.
