Great Smile So you've decided to give the old green-screen game a try and think you're ready to embark on a course of teeth whitening. You've now got the camera out and are thinking of how to use it as a great way to capture all the teeth whitening action. You've likely heard of the green screen a number of times and have seen it used for advertising, but what is a green screen, exactly, and how is it used?
The Green Screen is a device that basically allows you to do two things;

1. Composite a background or logo onto an existing image 2. Create an image from scratch The first one is easy, as all you have to do is insert the image into the frame of the camera and, when you're ready, take a couple of photos of the subject in front of the screen. The second one is a bit more complex but, once you've got your photos, you can start to apply your techniques. How to capture a perfect smile However, af5dca3d97
