They are used to store the individual SSP site definitions. They are defined in the RTM.PRC$ SSP_CARD but are not defined in the SSP.PRC. There are two of them, PRSSP01 and PRSSP02. If a SSP is defined in the RTM, you should define a record in this file to describe it. Where do I find these RTM4 SSP cards? If you are using the Autosys/Designmaster 5000 User Interface, you will find the source system definition (RTM.PRC$ SSP_CARD) and the target system definition (RTM.PRC$ TARGET_SSP_CARD) at the SSP Control Projection Area (PCPA). This PCPA is located in the IMAGE Menu of the SSP Projection Area. You can access it by clicking on the SSP Projection Area icon at the SSP Dock and selecting IMAGE. The source and target SSP location definitions are in the top two columns. If you are using the NGL Client/MGL Client User Interface, the RTM.PRC$ SSP_CARD file is located in the location where the SSP Definition is defined. If you are using the ASP Environment User Interface, the file is in the ASP Function location. The RTM.PRC$ SSP_CARD file is defined in the ASP Area of the ASP Function. If you are using VMM, the file is located in the VMM Projection Area. What other software can use these RTM4 SSP cards?
